

Please don't change the telephone privacy law. We were so harrassed with telemarketers that we could not have dinner without one calling. Now we receive almost no calls. It is a blessing. We have and emotionally handicapped child that is distracted from school work by their calls. We don't want them to call us anymore. We pay our phone bill for our use. Not theirs. Please leave it the way it is. Thank You, Linda and William James